Eilat אילת

Israel's southern-most city

Eilat is a busy port and popular resort.

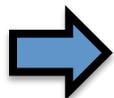

Eilat rests on the northern tip of the Red Sea.

Eilat is adjacent to the Egyptian village of Taba and Jordan's Aqaba, and close to Saudi Arabia.

Eilat usually has 360 sunny days each year.

Eilat's Red Sea is one of the most spectacular underwater nature preserves. You can see brightly colored coral and fish and may see everything from a venomous lionfish to a moray eel to a shark to a sea turtle to a manta ray.

There is a lot of great diving and snorkeling in Eilat.

Eilat is the beginning point of the Exodus story from Egypt until they crossed the Red Sea.
